

Health survey finds dog, sewage, refuse woes here

The Mississippi Department of Health this week released part of the results of its recent survey of Bay St. Louis made at the request of the Jaycees and stray dogs ran behind sewer deficiencies and improper refuse storage in the tabulation.

Of the 1921 residences surveyed 265 were considered sub-standard, 510 fair and 1146 good. Under sewage deficiencies the health department, which surveyed 2173 premises, classified as sewage deficiencies 70 privies and 2003 septic tanks as well as 38 listed without facilities.

Almost half, 262, of the 549 vacant lots were found to be poor from a health standpoint and 19 of the 125 blocks checked were described as sub-standard. The department found 1298 potential mosquito breeding places and estimated that "about 60" per cent of the city's mosquitoes were home bred.

The investigators found 167 stray dogs 145 of which had no collar. Other deficiencies on premises listed were: 270 approved refuse containers but unapproved storage; 386 improper refuse containers and unapproved storage; 974 miscellaneous large rubble; 200 lumber, wood, etc., to be racked; 25 junked vehicles; 158 dilapidated sheds; 28 privy sheds; 97 with poultry and rabbit deficiencies; and 32 connected with other animals; and, finally, 6 man-made containers, permanent and semi-permanent. (From the location of the last item on the list of deficiencies it is not clear whether these containers are for mosquitoes or refuse or whom else the department expected to make them.)

Gear for bond issue

HNC work plans ready

Preliminary plans for the HNC program at Pearl River and Hancock County Schools were approved as the school board is to put before the voters a $300,000 bond issue.

According to figures submitted by Architect Fred Wagner, and chances are it will be somewhat higher before drawings are in final form. At Pearl River, where the Loggyn School is to be replaced, Trustee Charles B. Murphy asked for modification in the gymnasium plan to include bleachers and storage space underneath them.

Sketches of the building exteriors are to be completed now by Wagner so the public can see those along with floor plans before the necessary bond issue is put to the public. Present target date for the bond election is early May which trustees said would enable bids to be let and work to proceed when the weather should be favorable for building.

When the school board first settled on how to proceed with a construction program last November it was estimated the three schools could be handled for about $455,000. However, the architect said he could not give a firm figure without plans and the request for the board of supervisors to call a bond referendum was delayed until Wagner could confer with the various school officials and work out plans for their needs. The new figure including both buildings and equipment is $132,240 more than first anticipated. Trustees are counting on proceeds from sale of the Loggyn plant to the federal government as part of the Mississippi Test Operations buffer zone to make up the difference.

Plan lunch for visit of solons

At Bay-Waveland Yacht Club on April 10 is the second scheduled stop for Mississippi legislators during their annual trip to the Gulf Coast, according to Joseph Marochino, Hancock County's representative on the advisory committee planning the junket.

The legislative group's first stop after leaving Jackson by bus will be NASA's Mississippi Test Operation where they will see first hand the making of that part of Hancock County. The afternoon program has the lawmakers visiting Harrison County Industrial Park near Pass Christian and Gulfport's business docks before a seafood dinner at the Buena Vista Hotel, Biloxi.

On Saturday, April 21, an all-day cruise of Gulf waters will be followed by another dinner at the Buena Vista.

Lakeshore man dead in mishap

A young Lakeshore father of three was killed Tuesday afternoon when a bulkhead he was welding to a vessel at a New Orleans shipyard crashed on David Matthew Stoufflet, 23, died in the accident shortly before 3 p.m. at Hatter Marine Service on Chef Menteur Highway where he had worked as a shipfitter for one and a half years. He lived in Lakeshore's subdivision in Waveland.

The funeral will take place at 2 p.m. today at St. John's Catholic Church, Lakeshore, with Rev. Canisius Hayes, pastor, officiating. Burial will be in Bayou Caddy Cemetery.

A son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Stoufflet of Lakeshore, Mr. Stoufflet was born Jan. 31, 1921. His wife is the former Merle Lusch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Lusch, and they had three daughters, Deborah Ann, 6, Susan, 4, and Lisa Faye, 2. In addition, surviving are two brothers, Gary M., and Audie Douglas Stoufflet, both of Lakeshore.

Few hear county sub-division plan

About two dozen persons, including county and state officials and the press, attended Tuesday night's public hearing in the Courthouse on proposed county subdivision regulations.

Louis C. Bisso, president of Planning Services, Inc., of New Orleans, employed by the board of supervisors, explained aspects of the regulations which include a planning proposal, land use surveys, population projections, preparation of a county zoning ordinance, a major thoroughfare and community facilities plan, and a public improvements program.

The sub-division regulations, Bisso declared, are aimed at stopping "unscrupulous people who would bleed the land for all its worth."

Representatives of the state department of health, C. K. Copeland, advisory sanitarian; J. E. Johnston, sanitary engineer; Garner Russell, coastal area sanitary engineer; and Wayne Alliston, county sanitarian, explained their requirements were not necessarily based on law but that agencies such as the FHA would not offer financing to builders without approval of the health department.

One requirement is that approval for septic tanks is given only for lots having at least 12,500 sq. ft. area and that a well would not be approved on the same lot with a septic tank, noting that sometimes a glass of water from such a well would have a "head" on it caused by detergents seeping into the well.

Those on the program didn't quite outnumber the audience but the crowd was comparatively small, around 100 at Tuesday night's public hearing on Stanislaus Day School grounds on the utility bond program to be voted on Saturday.

Voting will take place from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday at City Hall on the $3 million bond issue and all qualified voters in Bay St. Louis can participate.

Eugene Owen, Baton Rouge consulting engineer, outlined the engineer's proposals for providing a sewerage system and improving the present water and gas systems as well as pointing out some of the needs for these improvements.

In addition to brief comments by Mayor John A. Scalfide and Commissioner of Utilities J. Cyril Glover, Joseph Marochino, chairman of the sponsoring Citizens Committee for Progress, introduced representatives of some of the organizations that have endorsed the program each of whom spoke briefly.

These were Dr. A. K. Martindale, chief of staff, Hancock General Hospital; Hugh Miller, president Rotary Club; Mrs. Russell Elliott, Jaycees; Mrs. C. J. Piazza, president, American Legion auxiliary;

Mrs. Lucien Raymond, vice president, Hancock General Hospital auxiliary; Gerald Gex, representing Hancock County Bar Association; Joseph H. Benvenuti, commander, American Legion; Dr. Marion Wolfe, Jr., president, Jaycees; and Powell Glass, Jr., president, Hancock County Chamber of Commerce.

Dr. Wesley McFarland also spoke for the area doctors, and B. U. Jones, community relations director at NASA's Mississippi Test Operation, and Harvey Meyers, General Electric Co.'s communications manager at MTO, expressed their organizations' hope that the voters approve the bond issue necessary to finance the utility program.

While poll tax receipts are not required, city election officials advised it may be wise for voters to take the slips to the polls with them as the elector registration books have just been purged.

As efforts to secure passage of the bond election neared conclusion Mayor Scalfide, Commissioners Glover and Warren Traub and Marochino met Tuesday afternoon with commercial or bulk water and gas users to outline to them phases of the utility improvement plan which will affect these people. Owen also was at the meeting.

Attending were Brother Hugh of St. Stanislaus College, Msgr. James J. Hannon of Our Lady of the Gulf Church, Rev. John Cody of St. Augustine Seminary, Tom Logue of Hancock General Hospital, David Smallwood, Emmett Demoran, Robert Gullbault, T. T. Robin, Mrs. Lawrence Jacob, Richard Burge, Lucas Pucheu, J.D. McCullough and J. S. Price.

MTO work force near peak, open more bids

Work force at Mississippi Test Operations this week climbed closer to its peak of last November with a count of 869 listed on Monday. Previous high was 890 and that figure should be exceeded shortly as construction moves ahead. Of the total contractor personnel accounts for 549.

Meanwhile bids were opened during the last week by the Corps of Engineers at Mobile on the electronic instruments-

A new sub-station to meet growing electrical demands on Coast Electric Power Assn. in the Bay St. Louis area is among items in the $225,000 construction program of the organization on which the Mississippi Public Service Commission has scheduled a hearing at 10 a.m. Friday in Jackson.

H. H. Shattuck, Coast Electric manager, said a $75,000 sub-station is planned on Turner Street south of U. S. 90 and west of Bay St. Louis to supplement the existing station on Waveland Avenue. That one was built about 10 years ago and was thought at the time to be adequate for the foreseeable future.

The new structure should be finished and energized about July 1 in time for the summer peak load, Shattuck said.

The application for a certificate to proceed with the construction program calls for another sub-station in Harrison County north of Long Beach and one in Pearl River County, also tied in with the growth of the system.

A beginning

We'd call Waveland's first St. Patrick Day's parade, queen crowning and other festivities last Saturday a howling success. There must have been close to 1,000 people on Coleman Avenue long before parade time.

Now it may be that the very impromptu nature of the affair this year is what made it go over so big. The idea was apparently hatched in the minds of three or four men only a couple of weeks ahead of time. Except for Mayor Garfield O'Leary's proclamation setting the early date for the parade and the O'ing of the O'Bourgeois, O'Leary and other substitute Irishmen there was no official backing. With a few exceptions even the Coleman Avenue merchants took little interest.

In any event, Saturday's success should give the people of Waveland an idea to mull over. If things could go so well this first time with only a few enthusiastic people back of the celebration, think what might grow out of it if Waveland's businesses and officialdom decide to make a big thing of St. Patrick's day every year.

Letters to The Editor

Editor, Sea Coast Echo:

Read your account a few days ago—make it a law—about the public carrying car insurance. Trouble is, your proposal would only apply to the middle class—not to those that get by with Louisiana tags.

Let our sheriffs drive by and notice how many Louisiana tags are on residents' cars. They claim Louisiana when it comes to tags and driver's licenses, but live and even vote here. It gets me down to see what they let some get by with.

The law can find these fine cars parked at depots, churches and in their driveways and garages.

I am a newcomer and try to keep within the law. Make them, too.

I also vote.

NEWCOMER

Editor, Sea Coast Echo:

Because of the heavy demand for clippings from your newspaper, we have found it necessary to request that you send us another copy each week.

This indeed is credit to your fine articles and editorials. Our clippings are mailed to every state in this country and to several foreign nations, tabbed with the name and date of the newspaper from which they came, so the resulting publicity you and the Gulf Coast area receives is tremendous...

Thank you.

Civil defense units search for fisherman

Body of David Callahan, 18-year-old Houma, La., fisherman presumed to have drowned at the mouth of Pearl River Saturday, had not been recovered Wednesday afternoon, Russell Elliott of the Bay St. Louis Civil Defense reported.

Herbert Stiefel, civil defense director, said he was called at 1:30 p.m. Saturday by the New Orleans Coast Guard to assist in the search for the body after they had received a report that Callahan had fallen from the deck of the oyster boat Capt. Bart near the entrance light to the river.

Dragging operations were conducted by the Mississippi and Louisiana Marine Conservation Commissions, Coast Guard helicopters and private planes patrolled the area while boats owned by Albert Strong, Joe Cure and others joined in the search.

Assisting were Stiefel, Elliott, Ray Stiefel, Jr., Norvin Fayard, Donald and Alphonse Dorn, Rufus Lafontaine, Matt Green and others.

Elliott said bodies usually rise to the surface from two to 48 hours after drowning then sink and rise again, time depending on water temperature and other factors. He thought the body was still in the vicinity of the mishap.

A crew member said Callahan joined the Capt. Bart's crew about two weeks ago.

The Mississippi Legislature POLITICOS SPEAK

BY RALPH SOWELL JR.

The first hints of controversy hit the 1964 Mississippi Legislature in its tenth week, as issues such as teacher's pay raises, finances, Governor Johnson's request for a state police and for a change in election laws met verbal opposition. A bill passed by the Senate on Thursday called for a $11.5 million increase in teacher's salaries. The measure, debated for more than three hours, was given a final 42-10 approval. The bill will call for pay hikes ranging from $200 to $300 a year. The opposition to the bill was voiced on the grounds that the state's fiscal position would not provide for the additional revenue that would be needed.

The adopted measure was a committee substitute for a bill that would have cost $38 million a biennium to finance. Gov. Johnson hinted at his Friday press conference that he might veto a teachers' salary increase unless new money to finance it is provided by the Legislature. Johnson said he did not propose to threaten, but he is concerned with the "financial integrity of the state." The measure still has to pass the House before going to the Governor for his signature.

Budget study

The matter of raising taxes to meet the growing budgetary demands is still untouched, although a special 20-man legislature committee is working with the governor and the budget commission trying to arrive at a conclusion.

The Senate also became the battleground for the introduction of a set of controversial election laws in the form of 22 administration-backed proposals to establish identical election ground rules for Democratic and Republican candidates.

The bills are a result of Gov. Johnson's irritation at the present election laws, after he had to fight three elections last year while Republican nominee Ruben Phillips fought in only one. Among other things, the Republicans would be required to conduct primaries to qualify their candidates for the general elections. The bills would also require a party primary candidate, even though unopposed, to receive 10 per cent of the votes to be eligible for the general election.

On the heels of the introduction of the bills, the state Republican chairman, Wirt Yeager, Jr., of Jackson vowed there would be court action if laws seeking sweeping changes are enacted by the Legislature.

The Senate, meeting five days last week, for the first time since the 1964 Legislature convened in January, also passed a bill that would raise the minimum age for drivers to 16. The measure was given overwhelming approval, with only one dissenting vote, on an appeal of raising safety standards.

Sheriffs succeed

At the Governor's Press Conference, Johnson also endorsed a proposal to permit sheriffs to immediately succeed themselves in office.

Voters have ratified a constitutional amendment to permit sheriffs, now barred from seeking immediate re-election, but it has not been implemented by the Legislature.

House and Senate Penitentiary committees have recommended a reform program for the penal institution, favoring a five-member department of corrections to handle the business affairs and appointment of a superintendent with full authority over personnel.

Hancock County

Sen. James Rester of Lestown, representing Hancock and Pearl River Counties, was a signer of three bills introduced in the Mississippi Senate last week.

One measure would provide that the appointment of the director of the A and I Board be subject to the approval of the Senate.

Another would provide that a candidate for the State Senate from a senatorial district comprising two or more counties, shall file the Corrupt Practices Act Affidavit only with the circuit clerk of the county of his legal residence.

Rester also signed a resolution commending Dr. W. D. McCain of the University of Southern Mississippi and his staff for the efficient manner in which they have administered the established regulations of the university.

Rep. Walter Phillips of Bay St. Louis introduced a bill in the House in its tenth week calling for the authorization to be given to the boards of supervisors of Class 1, 2 and 3 counties, in their discretion, to purchase, install and maintain two-way radio communication systems in county-owned vehicles and supervisors' automobiles used in county business.

Chamber backs menhaden bill

Hancock County Rep. James C. Stimpert's bill to restrict menhaden fishing vessels was endorsed unanimously Monday night by the board of directors of Hancock County Chamber of Commerce.

The proposed legislation would place the menhaden fishing fleet under the jurisdiction of the Mississippi Marine Conservation Commission and would require these fishing vessels to operate south of the 30th parallel. The bill also would require the support of the menhaden industry for the measure, comes from the menhaden industry, who claim that operation of these commercial vessels in restricted waters damages sport fishing, a big industry in resort areas. At the suggestion of chamber president Powell Glass, Jr., the board voted to have a program for the general membership at its next regular meeting April 20. The hope was expressed that this meeting could be held at Bay-Waveland Yacht Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Mitchell, Negro, a son, Brian Joseph, eight pounds, one ounce, born March 16 at Hancock General Hospital.

vicque, local businessman, added it would impose a hardship for smaller operators having to post a security or performance bond for a subdivision, insuring that all intended improvements would be done within a specified time, before a lot could be sold.

Bisso answered that the subdivider could lay out his plan in sections, posting bond and selling lots on one section at a time. Wilson Wehre noted that administration of the regulations should be assigned to the supervisor of the beat where the subdivision is located and board president R. G. Hubbard, Jr., said individual supervisor could act but confirmation would have to come from the board.

jection but Frank T. Also that he had been advised by the state attorney general to that effect.

Two sets of bids on the same job last fall were rejected as too high.

Blues blank Gold at BHS

Bay High coach Lance Lumpkin said he was "well pleased" with this year's football squad following the annual Blue-Gold inter-squad game Friday night in Tiger Stadium won by the Blues 14-0. "They should make a good showing this season", he added.

First game is Sept. 4 with Stone High in Perkinston Junior College Stadium.

Both teams played on even terms for three quarters, neither being able to score but the Blues, coached by Luke Caruso, warmed up early in the last quarter and halfback Mike Strong took the pigskin for a trip around right end for first blood and six points. Lonnie Schultz pass to Larry Johnson was good for the extra point and it was 7-0, Blues.

Neither team could get within scoring distance but with nine seconds remaining Schultz got off a lateral to Strong for a short gain and Strong followed up with a 35 yard sprint to Lonnie Schultz for a 14-0 victory. The extra point was good as the Blues sounded.

Hancock North Central plans, submitted Saturday, call for two more classrooms on the four-room addition completed there last fall, a breezeway connecting that building with the high school section; an athletic building with two dressing rooms and showers, classroom, equipment storage areas, coaches' office, medical room and two toilets to serve the building as well as the football field; and a bus repair shop to the northeast of the present plant. Building cost is figured at $102,400, plus 20 per cent for equipment, fees, etc., for a total of $122,400. The first sought figure for HNC was $100,000 for four classrooms.

At Pearllington a $242,240 outlay is anticipated for a completely new building to replace Logtown, and at Gulfview $222,600 for more classrooms and other improvements. At first it was thought $180,000 would solve the Logtown-Pearlington needs and $175,000 would handle Gulfview.

Motion to approve the HNC plans was by Beat 3 Trustee Luggie Nacaise, seconded by Lamar Lee of Beat 2. E. P. Ortiz, board president, commented the need for the school program appeared to him vital if Hancock County is to have orderly growth and secure benefits it can get from MTO. He pointed to the Bay St. Louis school building program and the sewerage-water-natural gas project for the city as parts of the overall program.

S. 90 west of Bay St. Louis, route of Interstate 40 through Hancock County and relocation of state Rt. 43 which must be moved out of the fee area. MTO spokesmen said no decisions were reached.

Accompanying Smith were Eugene Johnson, his chief engineer, and J. F. Brownley, district engineer, while O. E. Batson and O. L. Rhodes of the facilities division at MTO appeared with Capt. Fortune.

VOTE FOR THE BOND ISSUE

To Our Fellow Citizens of Bay St. Louis:

Saturday, March 21, we vote on the proposed $3,000,000 Sewage, Water and Gas System Bond Issue.

This is one of the most important elections ever held in our community and there are certain factors that we sincerely hope you will consider in making up your mind.

A few of them are:

- Your taxes will not be increased.
- Under present conditions, we have SERIOUS HEALTH & FIRE HAZARDS which ONLY passage of the Bond Issue can remedy.
- If we fail to pass the Bond Issue this time, the problem IS STILL NOT SOLVED; just put off to a later date when the COST WILL BE HIGHER.
- Only Bay St. Louis and Pass Christian remain of the large communities on the Gulf Coast without sewage and adequate water. If we are to keep up with the times and attract our share of new residents from NASA it is VERY NECESSARY for us to provide facilities as good as these newcomers have been accustomed to.
- Do you remember last summer when you could hardly get water to run in your bathrooms, PASSING this issue will solve that problem (and it's going to get worse if we don't)
- Right now fire insurance rates on nearly 4 out of 5 homes in Bay St. Louis are $39.55 per year for $5,000 of insurance. Passage of this issue will reduce that to at least $20.90 per year in each of those houses.
- Your septic tank problem of overflow and regular pumping out will be over with the new sewage system.
- Have you asked your doctor about the health risk we are running in our community right now without sanitary sewage. If not, please do so and remember: only passage of this issue can correct this.

When you go to the polls Saturday won't YOU vote FOR the Bond Issue and progress

Teachers appointed

Hatch named to post at Logtown

Appointment of Percy Hatch as principal at Logtown School for the 1964-65 session was the lone administrative change recommended by Superintendent Robert F. Lachner when the county school board met Saturday.

Hatch, now teaching in the Gulfport system and lay minister at Logtown Methodist Church, will succeed Oscar Breland, principal for many years. Breland, who was the only principal without an A or better certificate, was recommended by Lachner to continue at Logtown as coach. That position will be vacated next year by James Douglass who is going to Carriere.

Others elected to the Logtown faculty were Mrs. Olivia K. Smith, Mrs. Rosalie Crawford, already on the staff there, and Mrs. Hatch.

The board approved the list submitted by Gulfview Principal Oren Seal of returning teachers as follows: Sidney M. Seal, Miss Sue Anne Osborn, Mrs. Margaret Varnell, Mrs. Nora Wright Fuente and Mrs. Chris Hart.

Approved on Principal J. D. Penton's recommendation at Hancock North Central were Mrs. Yvonne Thrash, first grade; Mrs. Myrtle Saucier, Mrs. Carl Moran, both second grade; Mrs. Marjorie Cuevas, Mrs. Cecil Lachner, third; Mrs. Roland Lachner, Mrs. Bernesia Arcement, fourth; Doc Thigpen, English, Elvin O. Lee, science; Francis W. Lee, math, Miss Twillpha Cuevas, social studies, Carl Moran, math, both seventh and eighth grades; Edwin Penton, ninth and 10th English; Walter Daniels, 11th and 12th English; Mrs. J. C. Harrell, business education; Homer Williams, social studies and math; Mrs. Mary Favre, home economics; Ezell Lee, social studies, physical education and coach; Pat H. Morris, science, physical education and assistant football coach; Roland Lachner, math, physical education and basketball coach; R. J. Vermilyea, band, Mrs. G. S. Kennedy, guidance and counseling, and D. J. Martin, vocational agriculture.

Superintendent Lachner reported that three HNC teachers have indicated they will not return: a third grade teacher, the librarian and the seventh and eighth grade English instructor. As for other vacancies in the system, he indicated he is ready to recommend replacements at a later meeting. He reported Penton has conferred with those teachers at HNC with B or C certificates and informed them unless they do summer school work they will be replaced.

Arthur J. Necaise, named elementary principal at HNC and transportation supervisor for the whole system, conferred with trustees on duties in the transportation field. The board emphasized the need to save with trustees on his duties in the transportation field. The board emphasized the need to save money and cited past difficulties with operation of school buses.

Policy on faculty quarters for coaches at Hancock North Central was raised by Best 3 Trustee Lugs Necaise. He said he considered it unfair for one coach to be provided a home and not the other, suggesting there be some equalization made in remuneration.

Bills were approved as documented except for a $532.05 item from Blossman Gas for butane at HNC which five deliveries were made from Feb. 10 to 28. The board also asked Lachner to look into the matter of who is playing the telephone, butane and electricity bills at the teachers' homes.

Teen Times

Saturday, April 11, should be an important date on every teenager's calendar. A Road-E-O sponsored by the Jaycees is scheduled at Our Lady of the Gulf School yard and all participants will receive certificates, the top three, awards, and the winner will compete in the State Road-E-O. Unfortunately the drivers most in need of such a program, the drag racing broken muffler kids, probably won't take part as it involves tests of skill rather than speed. Written questions are to be answered and slow driving through an obstacle course, backing and marking talents will all score points. This isn't to be an exhibition but is designed to instill in young drivers proper driving knowledge, attitudes and skill through competition. We fervently hope everyone will plan to either enter or attend this Road-E-O for at least 25 per cent of our driving youth could stand improvement in their motoring manners and techniques!

One of our favorite teenagers just left the column and graduates to Polly Peers—Faye Mond, who now has a job at Bill's Dollar Store, was 20 on March 16. As one leaves, another enters—W e l c o m e—Amy Lynch who celebrated her 13th birthday on the same date. Happy birthday greetings also got to Lorraine de Montluzin whose parents entertained in her honor at a dinner party at the Broadwater Beach on March 12. Lorraine is now sweet 16. The Girl Scout father-daughter banquet at OLG cafeteria was a huge success. Each troop prepared a different delicacy and entertained with a skit.

Pretty Ulrike Winkelmann, a dietetic major at USM spent last week at home. Gene Stanson, a former North Bay Elementary student, now attending school in New Orleans, took in the roller rink while spending the weekend with his parents at their Sears Avenue summer home. Dick Watts was awarded a scholarship as the result of his grade on tests at PRJC on Senior day.

Twenty St. Joseph girls took National Merit Scholarship tests last March 10.

Pearl River Junior College students from the Bay-Waveland area are quite busy getting ready for Plenty of Money, a mystery-comedy to be presented soon. In supporting roles are Clem Penrose as Mr. Teakle, Reggie Favre, FBI agents; Sammy Cuevas, Knuckles; Jimmy Loup, Mr. Johnson; Cassie Rhodes, Eliza, and David Smith, Spike. Betty Smith is using her artistic talents as chairman of the scenery committee assisted by David Smith and John Kintzley. Irene Thomas has Kenny Kothmann to aid her with props, Jimmy Giametta will be helped with lighting by Bill Jennings and a newcomer to the Bay, Russell Hale. Cassie Rhodes has charge of choreography and Mary Lee Garcia is assistant director. Jennelle (Mrs. Joe) Kern and Mrs. Lewis Hart were most pleased when a full class of 16 Candy Strippers to be (teen-age hospital volunteers) showed up for their first class at 9:30 Saturday morning. This is as many as they can accept now although other classes will be held when this group completes the six Saturday course. Girls who'll earn the right to wear attractive pink striped uniforms are Christine Barkley, Terry Gaudet, Gail Gentill, Billie Gwta, Betty Hill, Diane Hunter, Jeanne Lagasse, Vernette Lind, Ellen McDonald, Caroline Orlis, Sharon Piazza, Eileen Saucier, Phyllis Sauer, Piji White, Patricia Wimbish and Dottie Wood.

Senior Girl Scouts who scrounged around so frantically for sleeping bags for their camp out at Camp Wilkes in Biloxi last weekend needn't have gone to all that trouble as comfortable beds were available. Those attending were Mary Lagarde, Susie Clark, Jeannie Rutherford, Terry Gaudet, Piji White, Dottie Wood, Betty Hill, Eliza Lyach, Ann Morland, Delph, Kathleen Maloney, Pittcain and Fahy di-

Our North County reporter, Ann Necasse took the part of Bill Bluet in HNC's Junior play, Home Came Hattie, still wearing the cast on his writing-right arm. The play was pre-

GAS AND TAXES - Pictured at Horne's restaurant last week are area gasoline dealers who heard Curtis Flowers, secretary of Mississippi Petroleum Committee, re gasoline taxes in Mississippi. Group expressed opposition to any increase in these taxes which now amount to more than 15 cents per gallon in Hancock County. From left, they are: Don Lusich, R. M. Holt, Joseph Compretta, Hugh Sanford, Alvin Genin, Andre Arceneaux, W. M. Morgan, Jr., Anthony Scufide, N. A. Pernicaro and A. P. Guizrix, Jr.

Jimmie Hoda aids at AF parents day

Airman First Class Jimmie R. Hoda of Rt. 1, Pass Christian, participated in the first Parents Day Open House here for families of young men and women from McChord AFB Washington, area who recently have enlisted in the Air Force. Hoda, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hoda of Rt. 1, Pass Christian, assisted in presentation of demonstrations and in escorting the visiting parents about the base.

Prima Thomas received one of the most wanted gifts, a Volkswagen for her 16th birthday Saturday.

Two St. Joseph graduates making names for themselves at LSU are Peggy Lamb whose grades have her listed in the top 14 per cent at the University and Trish Blanchard who has been selected as one of five maids from which the Sweetheart of Alpha Tau Omega will be selected.

Bob Hamilton will arrive home from Annapolis for the weekend. Eddie Jennings is stationed with the U. S. Army at Ft. Polk, La.

Pfc. Ralph E. Crowe reported to the 304th Signal Corps Battalion at San Francisco on Monday prior to leaving for a Korean tour of duty.

Jo Ann McCullough was honored as sophomore of the month of March at Pearl River Junior College. Jo Ann, a Bay High graduate is named one of the school's outstanding cheerleaders, a member of the Newman Club, S.E.A. and took part in a musical comedy, On With the Show, last year. She plans to attend USM after graduating from PRC in June.

Ever so often we dedicate the opening of this column beginning to cheering new residents in on local customs which might differ from those of other areas and it won't be long before the 'fair season' gets underway. There'll be church fairs, club fairs, school fairs. . . In fact it seems that when more than three people get together, they cook up a fair! When we first arrived on the coast some 13 years ago, our first fair experience was something of a surprise. Fairs to us stirred vague memories of baking and jelly making contests and big fat animals. . . so we were hardly prepared for the carnival atmosphere that prevails at these benefits.

Fairs, Gulf Coast style

There are the usual booths, but that's just about where any similarity to the usual fair ends. On just about each booth is a wheel and beneath the wheel are numbers upon which one wagers any sum from a nickel up and may win anything from a potted plant or box of groceries to a fancy doll or a homemade cake! There are dart games where one tosses sharp little points at money filled balloons, goldfish to be won by throwing balls in bowls and a barker loudly hawks his wares on a loud-speaker on each booth. Food is plentiful. . . some even feature gumbo and fried chicken and at most, beverages flow like water. Most have another popular game which we never mention in the paper because of lottery laws, but it's an excellent way to rest weary feet. . . we hope you'll attend at least one of these affairs because once you do, a calm every-day, old time fair will seem just too dull by comparison!

O'Waveland goes Irish

Waveland's first St. Patrick's Day parade last Saturday was successful even beyond the wildest hopes of its boosters. The only time we've ever noted even half as many people on Coleman Avenue is election night Mayor Ladner wearing a green top hat and tie and Rev. John O'Brien, probably the only native Irishman taking part in the celebration, were seated on Town Hall steps and Claire Bourgeois, Tony Bourgeois, Lillian and Al Grass, Jean and Johnny Longo, all attired in some shade of the color of the day completed the reviewing stand which was gaily decorated with crepe paper, hundreds of large shamrocks, a large 'blarney stone' and the green colored champagne table held green goblets for his honor to toast queen Terry Gaudet, lovely in a white frock with green accents and a huge bouquet of roses.

We're still trying to figure whether Joe Griffin or 'Doc' Bosch was grand marshal. . . both were resplendent in full dress. . . Joe's green satin tails were colorful to say the least. Fred Bourgeois and Bill Kenny stirred their way to lead the parade. Wallace O'Bourgeois drove the tractor pulling the beautifully ornamented queen's float which was escorted by a company of young horsemen. . . there were four or five to begin with, but George Mayfield was the only rider on the last lap of the parade. A marching crew composed of such good old Irish names as Lou Williams and Jess Gaudet (both were among original instigators and had feared they would have to work but a sympathetic boss let them leave early); the Herbert Dicharrys and daughter Linda, Mary and Mac McCall, Julia and Clarence Duvelien, the Monteros and a number of others were followed by bicyclers, girl and boy scouts and leaders, the Legion train, driven by Russell Elliott until a hurry Civil Defense call forced him to leave the task to John Rutherford; and cars, cars and more cars including those of Ireland's Lounge. . . very appropriate, the O'Morans, etc., etc.

Even the dogs were dressed for the occasion. . . newcomer Mrs. Robert Schilling had an enormous green ribbon adorning her Pekinese and A. Bosch's tiny Manchester, Peggy, was wearing a bright green jacket and matching hat.

Just to give readers who didn't attend an idea of the enthusiasm stirred up by what we're certain will be the first annual such parade, Juanita and Bill Redo whipped up a batch of green ice cream and had a hard time keeping up with the demand for this delicacy and Louise Lynch had sold 144 little shamrocks before ten a.m., Saturday.

We could never list all who took in the festivities but a few seem around included Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Naro and daughter, Susan, who drove over from New Orleans just to attend; a Mr. Rolfe who did likewise; Lori Fassnacht, Lee and Buck Woodcock—they came from Long Beach; Mrs. Sara Thorning, Grace Bordages, Elaine Davis, Eloise Hayes, Terri Bosch, wearing emerald green, Mabel Monti, Jane and Ellis Cuevas, Joan and Red O'Glass; he sporting a bright green tie and she, a matching scarf; Elsie Kenny, Evelyn Monti and their mother, Mrs. Carver, Lottie Ladner, Ida O'Edel, Lillian Sonier, Bea, Lauren and Sylvia Sonier, Norma Karl, Shirley Piazza, Ida O'Bourgeois, Polly Fagen, very colleenish, and Eddie Engelhorn, and Barbara and Tommy Ray Bourgeois who gave us quite a turn—Barbara carried a tiny infant and Tommy followed holding a car bed. . . however, they hastened to explain that it was Barbara's cousin's baby, not their! We'll run out of space if we continue with names but will state that everyone turned out—old time residents, weekenders, newcomers and those from neighboring towns. . . and we were just about to forget—Clarisse and Oswald O'Villiers served corned beef and cabbage to revelers to make certain everyone was hungry at an Irish ration.

Helene Mitchell is a career woman once more—she's in the purchasing department at Chrysler.

Recovered

Our sick list is at last dwindling but will send special get well wishes to Ethel Gex who had such a severe case of flu that she was unable to work for two whole weeks for the first time in (since she's been with the family firm). Bessie Haverly, another who is seldom ill, finally went to the doctor last week. . . she had bronchial pneumonia. Zelda and Ken Walzmann's spring planting is even more spectacular than usual this year. . . the anemones are gorgeous and Col. Axater's tulip and hyacinth bed is as always lovely.

It's fabulous

Bay Royale, the fabulous new apartment house nearing completion on U. S. 90 near Dunbar Avenue is the fanciest such development we've ever seen. Betty and Fred Rose will manage the units and you'll just have to see it for yourself to believe it. It features two swimming pools, separate facilities for families, young marrieds and retired couples and bachelor girls and bachelors. All apartments are complete with such furnishings as you desire, built-in kitchens, draperies, luxurious carpeting, enormous closets, laundry room, and even a leisure room for cards, television (Cont. on Page 8-B.)

Guess who?

Who is the dark haired young lady who feels her neighbors tulips to make sure they are alive. . . not plastic? To be perfectly honest we'd not have known her identity if she hadn't told us!

Bob Geiger entertained a group of friends informally Saturday. . . the occasion was to let someone who didn't have the opportunity to view his Pilgrimage-pretted home to enjoy it and to let others have a better look. He's done fabulous things to his always interesting home without taking away any of the atmosphere. He must have been busy 24 hours a day for weeks. Among those admiring the pictures, furniture and the like were Miss Veronica Mohr, looking especially pretty in a black satin sheath; Judy and John Landon, Mr. and Mrs. Winthrop Baker, Myrt and Mike Haas, who incidentally we have neglected to add to our expect-

In Mississippi... after bowling, beer is a natural

After you've bowled a game or two, or when you're winding up the evening at the neighborhood bowling center, it's good to relax with friends and compare scores. What better way to add to the sport and the sociableness than with a refreshing glass of beer? However you take your fun—skiing, skating, or at your ease in the game room—beer always makes a welcome addition to the party.

Your familiar glass of beer is also a pleasurable reminder that we live in a land of personal freedom—and that our right to enjoy beer and ale, if we so desire, is just one, but an important one, of those personal freedoms.

In Mississippi... beer goes with fun, with relaxation

PASS CHRISTIAN GIRLS POSE WITH SIDELINE TROPHY

Slidell, Pass win Sideline tournament

Bowling champs, Slidell and Pass, took home "winners" trophy in men's Sideline and Pass Christian played in women's play in Slidell's 4th Annual Sideline Basketball Tournament week in St. Stanislaus' gymnasium.

Slidell was the only local team able to reach the semi-finals and they bowed out to the 76-63 Friday night. Logans girls dropped their game to Pass Christian Thursday 70-

57. Harold Key, who paced Slidell with 27 points in its final game, Weinsacker's of Mobile won the most valuable player trophy.

Co-chairmen for the tournament were Dacien, Slidell's secretary, and Red Logans, who concurred that the 1964 tournament was the best yet in the area, financially and otherwise. They said all they want to return next year is a friendly atmosphere.

Slidell beat Trapani in the semi-finals with fine play in the second half after trailing by a points during most of the half. Slidell wound up 14-13 but the Traps came back in the second to 13-14 and 31-28 for the win. Slidell came roaring back in the third period 23-22 and added insult to injury by winning the fourth 25-18. Starring in the tournament.

Jimmy Shields was top scorer with 32 points followed by W. Cameron with 12, Charles Robinson 11 and Melvin Barnes 7. For Slidell, it was Mack Harry with 16, L. V. McGinety, 15, Key 14 and John Modrick 11.

Slidell won the championship in a thriller, having to overcome a 42-35 lead built up by Weinacker in the first half, the Mobile lads overcoming a Slidell first quarter lead of 23-19 by taking the second frame 23-12. Slidell had third and fourth quarter leads of 23-13 and 22-21. Key was top scorer for the winners with 27 followed by Glen Bowman 18, Mack Harry 12 and McGinety 10. For Weinacker Lowery got 25, Horn 18 and Mugnier 10.

A real thriller was the girls' finals won by Pass Christian over the Cosmets of Hattiesburg 53-51 in overtime. Pass Christian took a 10-8 first quarter lead but the Cosmets forged ahead in the second and led 22-19 at halftime and again at the end of the third 39-38. As the Louise and Joe Wyner took advantage of last Sunday's beautiful weather to entertain at a barbecue. Guests were Joe's sister and brother-in-law, Jeanne and Fred Lister, sons Larry and Freddie and their guests Shirley and Bobby of Shidell, Mr. and Mrs. John Plase, Jr., and daughter, Cindy. The Wyners and Listers took to the St. Patrick's dance at Dixie Moore's, usually known as Villard's on Saturday night.

Grandparents

More excited grandparents expecting their first grandchildren. Deane and Bill Henry will present Lillian and Al Grass with their first in July and Judy and Pat Bourgeois are to become parents in August. Prospective grandpa, Lloyd is already shopping for a crib.

Dog doings

Curly Blanchard was attacked when he was walking to his car. . . he was certainly was protecting her with a new car. . . it wasn't quite. . . it was a dog 5-month old puppy which not only was (and is) un-broken, but has to be fed at night just like a baby! They've christened the newest member of the family Penny, but will probably change it to Century Note when they finish paying for all the shots.

For the past week or so we've been trying to get in touch with James Senter, but to no avail. As he apparently reads the column we'll ask him in this way to please call and let us know what we wrote about our local game warden that upset him so much? He wrote objecting to disparaging remarks about them in the column and we're completely mystified but as he says an apology to these faithful readers of the law is in order, we'll do so forthwith, but still haven't the vaguest idea what we're apologizing for.

Gripe corner

A lady who wouldn't tell us her name (but we'll find out what it is given a little time) asked that we complain about the traffic jam which is just about a 24 hour problem on the corner of Duane and Main Street. Joe Lefebvre has always put up with the inconvenience of his customers, but does anyone else? Almost never. . . and even worse huge delivery trucks collecting make getting through this bottleneck almost impossible. It's a dangerous corner anyway as the building on the corner across from A. and J. sits almost in the street making this a blind entrance into Main Street thereby doubling the accident proneness of the intersection.

Ben and George George, apparently just can't stay away from Waveland. . . they're trying to reopen their newly re-decorated lounge on Calumet.

Despite how in looking wonderfully named after she and Doug returned from a two week visit in their hometown, Calumet, Ga., where they visited their son Doug, Jr., his wife and three children.
